Dear President Hanlon:

FIRE¹ appreciates that Dartmouth is reviewing its response to security arrangements concerning Andy Ngo's speaking appearance at the invitation of the College Republicans and other student organizations.

We remain concerned that Dartmouth's decision to require the event to be conducted online, rather than in person as originally planned, was not justified by the potential security risks—risks that ultimately did not materialize—posed by those opposed to Ngo's appearance. Dartmouth's unilateral decision, despite law enforcement's efforts to ensure the event could proceed as planned, materially altered the venue and format of a student group's event in violation of students' expressive freedom. It also incentivizes similar threats to expressive activity in the future.

Dartmouth's administration, in response to online calls to disrupt the event, mobilized a large police presence,² but later canceled the in-person event, claiming that "concerning information" from the Hanover Police Department late that afternoon necessitated the decision.³

¹ As you may recall from recent correspondence, the Foundation for Individual Rights in Education (FIRE) is a nonpartisan nonprofit dedicated to defending liberty, freedom of speech, due process, academic freedom, legal equality, and freedom of conscience on America's college campuses.

² Dartmouth's precautionary measures are explained in greater detail in FIRE's January 26, 2022, letter.

³ Jacob Strier & Arizbeth Rojas, Virtual anti-Antifa event hosted by College Republicans moved online due to safety, logistical issues, THE DARTMOUTH (Jan. 25, 2022), <https://www.thedartmouth.com/article/2022/01/virtual-anti-antifa-event-hosted-by-college-republicans-moved-online-due-to-safety-logistical-issues>.

That assertion is difficult to square with the Hanover Police Department’s version of events, and with information contained in public records provided upon request from FIRE. According to Hanover police Chief Charles B. Dennis, his department “did not make a recommendation to Dartmouth College regarding the January 20th event.”⁴ Chief Dennis asserted that “[w]ith the information we had”—that is, the same information provided to Dartmouth—the Hanover Police Department was “operationally prepared as best we could to handle the event and protest.”⁵ The decision to cancel the in-person event was not on the advice of the Hanover police, and Dartmouth did not provide the police with “a reason or reasons for Dartmouth’s decision to transition to a virtual platform[.]”⁶

Further, the records produced by the Hanover police document social media commentary that does not differ significantly from the posts leading up to January 20. Instead, those records suggest that the sum total of “information” provided by the police to Dartmouth on the afternoon of January 20 consists of social media posts that, while concerning, constitute messages that endorse—but do not threaten—violence against Ngo.⁷

If these messages were interpreted by Dartmouth as threats, they were not reported as such to any of the law enforcement agencies reported to be involved in the Ngo appearance.⁸ Moreover, the Hanover police records consist of information provided by Ngo himself.⁹

Dartmouth’s handling of this matter creates a perverse incentive for speakers to refrain from sharing concerning messages, lest institutions like Dartmouth respond by taking action not against those making threats, but against the speaker. This is not the conduct of a university that, as your response claims, “prizes and defends the right to free speech.”¹⁰ A commitment to free speech requires institutions to “first make bona fide efforts to protect the speaker from the crowd’s hostility by other, less restrictive means . . . before removing the speaker due to safety concerns.”¹¹

Instead, Dartmouth responded to the threatened disruption of a student-run event by enacting an improper “heckler’s veto”¹² that acceded to the illiberal demands of Ngo’s ideological opponents. Effecting a heckler’s veto by “excluding a speaker . . . under most circumstances, will not constitute the least restrictive means for coping with a crowd's hostile reaction to her constitutionally protected speech."¹²

Sacrificing free speech rights when faced with actual violence is seldom justified; restricting expressive activity in the absence of substantial disruption is inexcusable. Far from protecting free speech, Dartmouth's actions will only prompt future threats and will deter speakers from coming to campus—to the detriment of campus safety and students' expressive freedoms.

FIRE calls on Dartmouth to recommit to free speech by promising to make genuine, serious, and transparent efforts to protect students' expressive rights when those rights are threatened by disruption. We request receipt of a response to this letter no later than the close of business on March 21, 2022.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Conza:

In response to your letter, Hanover Police did not make a recommendation to Dartmouth College regarding the January 20th event. I relayed to the College that I believe the information and concerns we had received from student organizers, event organizers, the speaker, open-source information available online referencing the event, and information through law enforcement channels was credible and caused us concern for the safety of those attending the event, protesting the event, as well as our community members. Information we received and copies of documents/emails you requested under the Right to Know law are being sent to you per our email to you dated January 28, 2022.

With the information we had, we were operationally prepared as best we could to handle the event and protest. During our operations briefing at approximately 4:52 PM, we were notified by Dartmouth Safety and Security, that the College decided to cancel the in-person event and move it to a virtual platform.

At that time, we were not provided with a reason or reasons for Dartmouth's decision to transition to a virtual platform and that decision did not significantly change our operational plans, resources, and readiness for the event.

Sincerely,

Charles B. Dennis
Chief of Police

Antifa Threatens to Disrupt Dartmouth Appearance by Conservative Journalist

NH Journal, 1/19/22

Members of New England-based Antifa groups are planning to stop right-wing provocateur Andy Ngo from speaking Thursday night at Dartmouth. Ngo is appearing at the college for an event sponsored by conservative organization Turning Points Network and the Dartmouth College Republicans. Ngo is set to speak Thursday night along with Gabe Nadales, a reputed former member of Antifa. News of the appearance got members of Antifa organized into planning a counterprotest, with some making threats to stop Ngo.

"When you enter our home you play by our rules, not yours," the Northeast Antifa social media account posted. "New England is anti-fascists, and we will hold that line till death."

"We have made all necessary preparations to facilitate this event in a safe manner. We will continue to evaluate any information we might receive," Dartmouth spokesperson Diana Lawrence said.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial data. This includes not only sales and purchases but also expenses and income. The document provides a detailed list of items that should be tracked, such as inventory levels, customer orders, and supplier invoices. It also outlines the procedures for recording these transactions, including the use of specific forms and the assignment of responsibilities to different staff members.

The second part of the document focuses on the analysis of the recorded data. It describes various methods for identifying trends and anomalies in the financial performance. This includes comparing current data with historical data, as well as benchmarking against industry standards. The document also discusses the importance of regular reviews and reports to management, highlighting the need for transparency and accountability in the reporting process. It provides examples of key performance indicators (KPIs) that should be monitored and explains how these metrics can be used to inform strategic decisions.

The final part of the document addresses the challenges of data management and offers practical solutions. It discusses the importance of data security and the need for robust backup systems to prevent data loss. It also touches on the issue of data privacy, particularly in the context of customer information. The document concludes by emphasizing the role of technology in streamlining the data management process and improving overall efficiency. It suggests investing in reliable software and hardware solutions that can handle large volumes of data and provide easy access to the information needed for decision-making.

Subject: Security Concerns

Hi everyone,

I would like to go over our security concerns. An anonymous group called the Dartmouth Anarchists is planning a protest in coordination with New England Antifa. You should keep tabs on these Instagram pages.

Dartmouth Anarchists: https://www.instagram.com/the_dartmouth_anarchists/
 Northeast Antifa: <https://www.instagram.com/northeastantifa/>

I would like you to be aware that [redacted] has been sharing this protest information on her Instagram page. You can check her Instagram story by clicking on her profile.

[redacted] has also been circulating protest information on social media. Check his Instagram story.

Please be wary of people trying to enter our event dressed head to toe in black. This is a known technique that Antifa uses to disguise themselves called "black bloc." The Antifa protesters have asked everyone they're sending to follow this dress code.

Thanks.

Sincerely,
Chloe

Chief –

See the attached mark up the campus map for tomorrow's event. I ended up making it 2 pages in order to blow up the area of detail sufficiently so it could be read.

Hi everyone,

One of our members found some disturbing posts on social media. It appears that a new group called the Dartmouth Anarchists are coordinating with Antifa in Vermont, New Hampshire, and potentially Boston to protest our event. They are planning to meet at 6pm before our event starts. Here are the posts:

Keep these fascists off our

Spread the word!

invited to this discussion ... so in coordination with anti-fascist students at Dartmouth College & anti-fascists in New Hampshire and Vermont - anti-fascists will be shutting down Andy Ngo's attempt to infect the minds of our local youth with far-right propaganda.

We can never relax when fascist propagandists are demonizing us to the youth; the future torch bearers of the movement.

Andy Ngo is not welcome in New England. We will oppose any and all fascist attempts to organize in our region.

Not one fascist march unopposed. Not one racist banner left up. Not one propaganda sticker left in the streets. Not one "discussion on Antifa". No fascist rallies, no fascist HQ's - no fascist left unaffected by our "by any means" approach to crushing fascist attempts at organizing.

Anti-fascists will destroy your comfortable life if you are attacking our community. Play stupid games & win stupid prizes.

The current plan is for everyone to arrive at Filene

Pair charged with interfering with safety on railroad tracks

Arrested allegedly placing 'shunt' on tracks in Whatcom County—can cause derailment, decoupling, or failure of gates at crossings, endangering public

Seattle – Two people arrested on the BNSF Railway tracks near Bellingham, Whatcom County, were charged with terrorist attack and other violence against a railroad carrier, and appeared in federal court today, announced U.S. Attorney Brian T. Moran. SAMANTHA FRANCES BROOKS, 27, and ELLEN BRENNAN REICHE, 23, both of Bellingham, Washington, were arrested Saturday night in Bellingham as they allegedly placed a 'shunt' on the tracks. A shunt disrupts the low level electrical current on the tracks and can disable various safety features.

7. Following the initial shunting incidents on January 19, 2020, a claim of responsibility was published on the anarchist website itsgoingdown.org on January 22, 2020.

An #Antifa account tags armed far-left militia groups on Twitter (John Brown Gun Club) to alert them about the event. In 2019, a member of the group in Washington state (Willem van Spronsen) carried out an armed firebomb attack on a ICE facility. He was killed in the process.

Hi Chief Dennis,

I am Sam Lee. I am the New England Field Representative for Turning Point USA. It's my understanding some of your officers will be working our Andy Ngo event. I just wanted to let you know a person from Burlington Vermont has commented that Antifa will be at the event.

The persons name is [REDACTED] One of the posts on his facebook go after our last big event in Burlington. The group's post that he shared, BTV Cop Watch, has a history of vandalism, theft and physical intimidation (blocking our display while reaching students, walking up and occupying space so close it forces people to physically move, following a minor volunteer to the point the school admin had to come out... at which time the student said he would not stop. He did after the school outline actions they could take). There have been rumors of this group popping activists tires but nothing that can be substantiated.

All of that to give you an idea of the people in his orbit. Now I don't know if anything will happen. I haven't been able to find any organizing but I wanted you to at least be aware of this.

I have attached a screenshot with the post.

Thank you

I am Sam Lee. I am the New England Field Representative for Turning Point USA. It's my understanding some of your officers will be working our Andy Ngo event. I just wanted to let you know a person from Burlington Vermont has commented that Antifa will be at the event.

The persons name is [REDACTED] One of the posts on his facebook go after our last big event in Burlington. The group's post that he shared, BTV Cop Watch, has a history of vandalism, theft and physical intimidation (blocking our display while reaching students, walking up and occupying space so close it forces people to physically move, following a minor volunteer to the point the school admin had to come out... at which time the student said he would not stop. He did after the school outline actions they could take). There have been rumors of this group popping activists tires but nothing that can be substantiated.

All of that to give you an idea of the people in his orbit. Now I don't know if anything will happen. I haven't been able to find any organizing but I wanted you to at least be aware of this.

I have attached a screenshot with the post.

Thank you

Sam

northeastantifa In under a couple of hours of posting our original counter-demonstration flyer for tomorrow - Andy Ngo himself inc only blocked us on Twitter (LMAO), he made multiple posts about the counter-demonstration and Northeast Antifa.

We are very honored to be one of the few anti-fascist accounts Andy felt that he needed to block on Twitter personally. Not only it hilarious that he decided to block us, it does nothing. Now we know he knows about the counter and we will plan accordingly - thanks Andy for the heads up & free advertising.

A lot of anti-fascist groups stay away from revolutionary leftist rhetoric for optics. What Andy does not know is that we are unapologetically communists.

Calling us communists does nothing but rallies up our support & tickles our egos.

This is to Andy Ngo himself: when you fuck with us you are not

You know the demo is being organized by Northeast Antifa and the dartmouth anarchists? Those are two separate groups. Northeast Antifa is probably one of the most militant street crews on the east coast and has been around since 2002. The demographics of Northeast Antifa are not college kids lol. The group has a very long track record of being based as fuck. probs been doing this longer than you have been a leftist or even alive. Let that sink in. Just go read the wikipedia abt the group before you cry harder bc you know absolutely nothing abt what ur talking about

Oh and GTFO Reddit and meet real leftists and organize. Instead of being just another larp on the internet thinking they have the authority to tell experienced groups who actually do stuff how they should organize, maybe you should be trying to seek out mentors in organizing so you can actually learn something. I think everyone is going to follow the leadership of the groups who do stuff and not some person on reddit

This is to Andy Ngo himself: when you fuck with us you are not fucking with college students. We will not play your little games. When you enter our home you start playing by our rules, not your. New England is anti-fascist and we will hold that line until death.

Edit: Andy is trying to pull an NSC-131 and engage in back and forth bullshit over the internet with us. We already trolled you into giving us attention (seriously thank you so much, we appreciate it). We are not threatening you with violence omfg stop the lying Andy

When have we made threats? All we sayin is that we don't like Nazi & we will die before fascists like yourself hurt our communities.

Here's a tip bro - next time an account with 20 followers organizes counter against you on Twitter just don't give them attention becauseee ... OHHH ... wait we forgot you are doing all of this on purpose because you want confrontation.

So, if Andy's coming back to the states to speak on the 20th, does that mean he might be in town sometime before or after?

Might be a good time to keep your eyes open and a milkshake at hand.

Friendly reminder that if you see Andy this week for his speaking events, even if you can't throw a milkshake at him, you can always spit in his food or stir his drink with a toilet spoon.

Facets should fear appearing in society, even if only to order a coffee or grab lunch.

Hi everyone,

One of our members found some disturbing posts on social media. It appears that a new group called the Dartmouth Anarchists are coordinating with Antifa in Vermont, New Hampshire, and potentially Boston to protest our event. They are planning to meet at 6pm before our event starts. Here are the posts:
