

Tell the truth
at Tufts, and
you might be punished.

Sometimes, the truth hurts. But at Tufts University, the truth just might get you convicted of harassment. That's what happened to a student newspaper that published satirical pieces containing unflattering—but verifiably true—facts, and that's why Tufts is one of only five schools on FIRE's Red Alert list.

If you can't speak the truth at Tufts, what can you say?
