

Expressive Activity in Designated Public Forum

The University of North Georgia is committed to providing an educational and work climate that is conducive to the personal and professional development of each individual. In fulfilling its mission as an institution of higher learning, it encourages the free exchange of ideas. To do this, the University has an Expressive Activities Policy that promotes free speech while also helping to make necessary arrangements to ensure that activities can go on without disrupting our daily operations. Expressive Activity areas are available on each UNG campus.

Space on UNG campuses is generally classified as one of the following types; designated public forum, limited public forum, and non-public forum. Members of the UNG community may use a variety of locations for Expressive Activity, although non-public spaces must be reserved through the UNG Event Management System. The University Community includes any persons enrolled at or employed by the University including faculty, staff, administrators and employees, and recognized University affiliated entities including University foundations, Recognized Student Organizations, University Departments, and Structured Volunteers.

Large groups planning to gather, though, should alert Public Safety Department at 706-864-1500. Members of the UNG community may also gather spontaneously in groups of under 25 people in Traditional Public Forums, Designated Public Forums, and Limited Public Forums as long as doing so does not interfere with previous reservations or the operation of the University. As always, for more in-depth information about this, please see the Expressive Activities Policy in its entirety.

If your organization is not a part of the University Community, you must use this form to reserve the Designated Public Forum. The Designated Public Forum Areas are provided on a content neutral basis and are designed for any non-University Community Members or groups to share an opinion or viewpoint with the University Community .

For all events, time, place, and manner restrictions may apply. Additionally, please review the provisions for care and keeping of UNG space by reading the Expressive Activities Policy in its entirety.
