Whether resident or non-resident, student or guest, the rules listed herein are applicable under the designated circumstances.

The information in this handbook is up to date at the time of publication. However, changes may occur following its publication. If so, appropriate notification will be made. WELCOME FROM THE DIRECTOR OF RESIDENTIAL LIVING

Welcome Home Colonel,

On behalf of the Office of Residential Living, I would like to welcome you to living on campus here at Nicholls State University.

You have joined a community that encourages learning in all aspects of life. Living on campus, you will find that we are a lot more than just a place to live. We provide facilities, programs, and services that will assist you in achieving your academic goals. I encourage you to get involved in your community, participate in the various residential programs, and become involved in the Residence Hall Association (RHA) to make a difference in your living community. Additionally, between our Hall Director (HD), Resident Assistant (RA) and Desk Assistant (DA) positions, we have around 80 student leader positions and employment opportunities within the Office of Residential Living, one of which could be for you!

The Residential Living Handbook is intended to acquaint you with the services, procedures, and amenities available to you as a Nicholls State University on-campus resident. It also informs you of the policies, rules, and regulations within the residential communities which you and your guests are expected to know and follow in order to stay safe, secure, and to remain in good standing during your experience. Your understanding of and respect for these guidelines are critical to your success as an on-campus resident.

If you have any questions, the Residential Living staff are always around to assist you. Please don't hesitate to stop by, call, or email. I hope you have a great experience this year at Nicholls State University!

Geaux Colonels,

Alex Coad

Director | Office of Residential Living

MEET YOUR HALL STAFF

The Residential Living team is always available to assist residents. There are over 40 staff members that live in the halls and can assist you at all hours of the day. Several of these people are particularly important, and you should be familiar with their responsibilities.

- Area Coordinators | The Area Coordinators are full-time live-in university employees. The AC's primary responsibility is the overall management and supervision of the residence halls and apartments on campus. The AC supervises the Hall Directors, Resident Assistants, and Desk Assistants, advise student groups, plans and implements residential living programs, and assists with judicial proceedings for Residential Living Handbook policy violations.
- Graduate Assistant | The Graduate Assistant for Business Operations is a staff member whose principal responsibilities include staff supervision and development, residential education, community development, crisis management, administration and building management, student discipline, Residence Hall Association advising, summer operations, and other departmental/university-wide responsibilities.
- Hall Directors | The Hall Directors are upper class or graduate students responsible for supervising Resident Assistants, Desk Assistants, overseeing judicial proceedings for their area, and planning and implementing residence life programming.
- Resident Assistants | If you live in a campus residence, the Residence Life staff member you will see most often is your Resident Assistant (RA). RAs are upper class or graduate students assigned to a specific community and live with the students. RAs are chosen for their qualities of leadership, maturity, and desire to help others. Their major responsibilities include: knowing each student in their community, serving as a resource, making referrals, assisting in programming, facilitating a floor environment conducive to community living and learning, and familiarizing students with University regulations.
- Desk Assistants | The Desk Assistant (DA) is a student staff member employed by the Office of Residential Living. DAs are responsible for monitoring the front desk areas, assisting residents, checking in guests, and ensuring the safety and security of the residence halls.
- Residence Hall Association (RHA) | RHA serves as the voice for all residential students. Every student living on campus is a member of this student organization which provides leadership opportunities, seeks to enhance campus living by working with Residential Living on important housing issues, and provides activities and programs in the residential community. The RHA advisor may be contacted in the Residential Living office.

CONTRACT & ASSIGNMENT INFORMATION

Living On-Campus | Living on-campus should be an enjoyable and rewarding experience with opportunities for self-development. To encourage that process, students are expected to follow all residential living regulations and to be considerate of others and of University property at all times. The residential experience requires an increasing level of physical, psychological, and emotional independence on the part of students. It is the University's expectation that all residential students will be capable of living independently and unassisted within the residential facilities. The University retains the right to decline housing for students who are unable to meet the University's housing expectations. Individuals needing accommodations (ADA should contact (985) 448-4783 or visit www.nicholls.edu/ada for assistance.

Nicholls State University policy supports the philosophy that students who reside on campus are better able to form an important connection, academically and socially, with peers and faculty. We feel that when a student resides on campus, they will be more involved as members of the college community and will hopefully invest greater effort into learning and succeeding throughout their college experience.

The University reserves the right to request students who drop below full-time status (less than 12 credit hours) to live off campus. Students desiring to live off campus must submit an exemption application and receive approval from the Office of Residential Living prior to committing to an off-campus accommodation.

Full-time students who begin the academic year living on-campus have signed an agreement for ONE FULL academic year (Fall to Spring) to live in the residence halls or apartments. They will not be allowed to break the contract except for those who meet the release requirements listed in the below section titled Release from Contract below.

Residential Living at Nicholls State University promotes the students' individual and academic development. It is the wish of the Residential Living Staff that disciplinary actions will not be necessary and that every resident will make a sincere effort to abide by the standards set for the residential community. Violations of policy are considered a breach of community standards. Residential Living strives to enforce residential and University policies and regulations in a consistent, fair, and unbiased manner and reserves the right to apply sanctions based on individual circumstances.

- Break Housing | Break housing is only available for students who have requested break housing in advance. Residents who sign up for break housing but do not have a break hall assignment may be required to temporarily relocate into a break facility.

All University housing except facilities designated by the University is officially closed for breaks during fall and spring semesters. Residents needing housing during Thanksgiving, Mardi Gras, Easter, and/or Spring Breaks have the opportunity to indicate this in their housing contract for the year. Break housing is an additional cost each semester beyond the original room rate. Residents without a Break Housing indicated in their contract must leave campus during all break closure periods, besides Brady Complex residents.

For safety and security, all residents (including Brady residents) are required to register for break housing if they intend to reside in campus housing for a portion of or the entire break. Registration is required for any portion of the break. Failure to register by the specified deadline will result in a $50 fine.

Only Brady is open during the period between Fall and Spring semesters and no meals will be served in the Galliano Dining Hall. Residence hall students who need housing between the fall and spring semester may request housing for that period. Requests for such housing may be granted on a space available basis. There is an additional charge for housing between the fall and spring semesters. If a resident is returning to the same residence hall room in the spring semester, the resident may leave belongings in the room over the break period. Residents moving to a new assignment in the spring semester are required to pack and remove all belongings and officially check out of housing at the end of the fall semester. While University police are available during break periods, all campus departments, including Residential Living, operate with minimal staff and reduced services.

- Fletcher Community College Students | Fletcher Community College students can live on campus at Nicholls State University if they follow the policy listed in APPENDIX III or APPENDIX IV., depending on their situation.
- Housing and Food Service Contract | This document sets forth the conditions and terms of occupancy and may not be assigned to another person in any way. The individual signing the contract is fully responsible for meeting the conditions and terms of occupancy which are set forth in the document. Every resident in campus housing must have a current signed contract on file. The academic year contract includes the designated fall and spring semesters. The academic year contract does not include the period between the fall and spring semesters. The summer contract covers the designated summer session.
- Housing Deposit | Each resident must submit a $250 housing deposit with the housing application. $50 of the deposit is a non-refundable application fee. The remaining $200 may be refunded to the resident when the resident graduates or is exempted from campus housing requirements. The deposit will not be refunded if the resident cancels the contract before the contract ends. If the resident has a balance remaining on their University account, the refund will be applied to these charges.
- Refunds | Refunds of housing and meal service charges are made in accordance with the University's refund policy. Residents who request to be released from their housing and meal service contract before the terms of the contract are completely met do not receive a refund of housing and meal plan charges, and they forfeit their housing deposit.

All residential students' deposit refunds will be processed in the same manner (with the exception of credit card payments noted in items 3 and 4 below).

1. Once a resident's check-out is completed and the room is inspected, Residential Living will apply any damages to a student's Banner account.
 2. Housing will then release the student's Housing Deposit.
 3. If the student's account has a credit, the University will issue a refund.
 4. If an international student paid their deposit with a credit card, then that card will be refunded. This only applies to international students.
 5. For international students who paid with cash or check, the credit will be mailed to the student's physical primary address listed in Banner.
 6. If an international student wishes to have the check mailed to a different mailing address than is listed in Banner as his or her physical primary address, the student should update this address.
- Room Changes | It is expected that residents will remain in their assigned rooms/apartments throughout the contract period. Any empty/unassigned spaces in a room or apartment are the property of the University and are to remain unoccupied. Residents of the room or apartment are not permitted to utilize the space(s) or grant access to the space(s).

All room change requests begin in Residential Living. Room changes must be completed within 48 hours of approval unless otherwise approved by Residential Living. Unauthorized room changes carry a $100 fine. A resident requesting a change due to difficulties with a roommate, suitemate, or apartment mate is expected to discuss the situation first with a member of the Residential Living Staff prior to requesting a change. The staff member(s) will work with residents and assist them in resolving the conflict. If no workable agreement can be reached after sincere attempts at mediation and resolution, a room change may be considered.

- Room Consolidation | Students who are without a roommate/suitemate for any reason in rooms or apartments and have not requested a paid single room (where available) may be required to move to consolidate room usage. This policy ensures that all persons having the privilege of a single room are treated equitably. Being required to consolidate means the student must either select a new roommate/suitemate from among other residents who must consolidate or be assigned to another room/apartment. Students will be given the option to choose their own roommate/suitemate if possible. Residential Living is available to help by providing names of persons who need roommates/ suitemates.

Students may not select a change that places another student in the consolidation category. Students may:

- A. select as a roommate/suitemate another resident who is currently without a roommate/ suitemate,
- B. accept a roommate/suitemate selected by Residential Living,
- C. be reassigned to another room, or,
- D. if sufficient space is available, be given the option to pay for a single room.

The choice must be made within one week of notification from Residential Living. Failure to comply may result in disciplinary action and additional fees. If students fail to make their own arrangements or fail to request Residential Living administratively reassign them, Residential Living reserves the right to assess the single room rate, to reassign them to another room/apartment, or to assign them a new roommate. Once Residential Living has taken action, the new assignment shall remain in effect for the remainder of the semester.

- Room Entry | Residents have the right to privacy within all campus residential facilities. However, the University reserves the right for Residential Living staff members and duly authorized agents to enter individual rooms while performing their duties, including, but not limited to, maintenance issues, routine closings, health and safety inspections, and emergencies.

The University is sensitive to the privacy of students living in campus housing. The University reserves the right for University personnel to enter rooms for the following purposes:

- Maintenance: to check on and/or complete repairs, inspections, inventory, sanitation, furnishings, preventive maintenance, etc.
- Safety: to monitor for missing persons, illnesses, safety, violations of residential and/or University regulations and/or other rules and laws, etc.
- Welfare: to conduct an inspection whenever it is felt that the community's or individual's welfare is at risk.
- Inspections: to ensure residential facilities are being regularly and properly cleaned and maintained. Although not required, the University will attempt to notify the resident(s) when University personnel have entered or plan to enter their living quarters. An inspection is made of all rooms and apartments at the beginning of each semester and periodically throughout the year. The resident(s) may or may not be present during the inspection. Staff members have the authority to enter the room/apartment even if the resident(s) is/are not home at the time of the inspection.

- Room Search (Administrative) | the Director or Assistant Director of Residential Living shall determine if there is a reasonable belief of policy violation and/or imminent harm sufficiently exists to search a student's room or apartment. If reasonable belief is determined, the student will be informed of the basis for the search. If possible, the search will be conducted in the student's presence. However, the student's absence will not prohibit a search.
 - Law Enforcement Search | A student living in University residential facilities is not immune from a legal search by law enforcement officers. In order for a law enforcement officer to perform a search of the room, there must be probable cause or consent from the occupying party for the search to be performed.
- Occupancy Conditions | Periods of occupancy of the residential facilities by the assigned students are governed by the academic calendar. Residence halls and apartments may be occupied only by the assigned students and their guests in accordance with the visitation and guest policies. Assigned students cannot reassign or transfer occupancy to another person. With the exception of Family Housing, all occupants assigned to an individual room, suite, or apartment must be of the same birth gender or gender identity. Any person living in University residential facilities without a valid contract or permission from Residential Living will be considered a trespasser. Trespassers may be subject to criminal charges of trespassing and/or loitering, and such individuals will be required to leave the residential facilities immediately. Residents who permit a person to live in University residential facilities without a valid contract may be sanctioned and/or fined.
- Occupancy Terms | The terms of occupancy shall be for the full academic year (fall and spring semesters). If a student moves into campus housing after the beginning of a semester, the terms of occupancy shall be for the remaining portion of the academic year. Occupancy during session(s) other than the academic year requires a separate contract. Any student occupying a room or apartment without authorization from Residential Living after the contract period ends will be liable for late check-out fees and housing charges until the premises are vacated, as well as disciplinary sanctions and/or fines. The fee for unauthorized late check-out is announced by Residential Living prior to the end of each semester.
- Property Insurance | The resident assumes the risk of theft, loss, damage, or destruction of personal property which may occur in the housing area. The University assumes no responsibility for residents' personal property. It is strongly recommended that residents cover their personal property through a family or personal insurance policy. Personal property should be marked for identification. Serial numbers and other identification information for electronic equipment and other personal property should be recorded and filed for reference purposes. It is the responsibility of students to lock the doors and windows of their rooms/apartments, and they are expected to do so.

CANCELLATION OF CONTRACT

- Academic Suspension | Residents who are suspended from the University due to academic reasons must vacate the residential facilities within twenty-four (24) hours of the suspension. If the suspension occurs after the end of a semester, the resident's housing and food services contract for any following semester(s) will be canceled. The deposit will be refunded, pending any charge for damages. If a student placed on academic suspension appeals for a waiver of the suspension and the appeal is approved, the student will have to submit a new housing and food service contract. Housing assignment priority will be based on the date of the new application.

If this has happened to you, we strongly encourage you to take advantage of the various support services available. For example, the University offers tutoring and advising services. The advising center is in 234 Elkins. The Tutoring Center is located in room 143 Peltier Hall. We also encourage you to seek help from your instructors. You will find them to be very supportive in providing students assistance. The Counseling Center in 224 Elkins Hall offers free counseling services and works with many students to address stress-related issues. Students are also encouraged to utilize medical services provided by Student Health Services in Ayo Hall.

- Contract Cancellation | The housing contract is for the entire academic year (both Fall & Spring). The summer housing contract is for the summer session(s). The deadline to cancel the contract is July 15th for the academic year and May 15th for the summer session. The deadline to cancel new spring contracts for the spring semester is December 15th for new spring residents who did not reside on campus during the previous fall semester. Residents wishing to be released from their contract must complete the Housing and Food Service Contract Release Request along with supporting documentation. Release requests are available online through the housing website. Submission of the release request does not result in automatic cancellation of the contract. Release requests must be reviewed and approved by the Office of Residential Living before the resident makes any alternate housing arrangements. For a detailed list of our policies regarding contract cancellations, please see Appendix II.
- Exemption and Living Requirements | At Nicholls we strive to provide a living-learning environment that supports the academic success of our students as well as their personal and social growth. We believe that our high quality residential facilities provide opportunities for students:

Students are expected to take an active role in the apartment's care and upkeep. Residents who fail to uphold housing regulations and expectations as published in the Residential Living Handbook and housing materials may receive disciplinary sanctions. Students must earn a minimum of 25 credit hours to be eligible for apartment housing. There are two types of apartments in the Brady Apartment Complex:
 - 4 Bedroom Apartments | Apartment comprised of four individual students with single rooms. Each student has their own single room but shares a bathroom/vanity with one other student.
 - 2 Bedroom Apartments | Apartment comprised of two individual students with single rooms. Each student has their own single room, bathroom, and vanity.
- Family Housing | Residents of Family Housing are subject to the policies and procedures outlined in this Handbook and the Family Housing Contract. Family Housing residents are responsible for providing all interior light bulbs. Family Housing has 20 individual apartments in the complex comprised of two types of units:
 - 1 Bedroom Unit | Student has a standard one bedroom apartment.
 - 2 Bedroom Unit | Student has a standard two bedroom apartment.
- Residence Halls | All residence hall accommodations are arranged in suites. Bath and vanity facilities in a suite are shared by the residents of that suite. Suites in Millet, Scholars, and Zeringue Halls are designated as either private or semi-private. Suites in Ellender and Calecas Halls have two separate resident living areas with one living area on each side of the bath. Each Calecas room shares a bathroom with another Calecas room.

Each private and semi-private suite is designed to accommodate two residents. Each traditional hall suite is designed to accommodate up to four residents (two residents in the left living area and two residents in the right living area). Residents may not request an entire suite be assigned to them exclusively.

- Semi-Private Suite | Suite-style room with an individual room space but no door to close. Rooms are separated by a dividing wall. Residents share a bathroom.
- Private Suite | Suite-style room with a door to their individual room. Rooms are separated by a dividing wall. Residents share a bathroom.

- 4 Person Suite | Suite-style room with two living areas on either side. Four residents share the bathroom, but two residents share one living area.
- 2 Person Suite | Suite-style room with two living areas on either side. Four residents share the bathroom, but two residents share one living area and have a door that separates the two spaces.
- Single Rooms | When space permits, Residential Living reserves the right to assign a double room in a traditional residence hall as a single (e.g., only one resident assigned to one side of the suite). Requests for double rooms assigned as singles are approved on a space available basis. Such requests cannot be guaranteed. There are additional charges for double rooms assigned as singles. The University retains the right to reassign single occupancy rooms to double occupancy when necessary to meet the housing needs of all students.

MOVE-IN (FALL) & CHECK-IN (SPRING) INFORMATION

- Check-In Inspection | Prior to the students' arrival, all residential facilities are carefully inspected by staff members utilizing an Inventory and Condition Report (ICR). At check-in, the resident will be asked to thoroughly inspect the assigned room/apartment and note any additional conditions or discrepancies on the ICR. The resident will be held responsible for any damage(s) and/or change(s) in the condition of the room/apartment not previously indicated on the ICR.
 - Inventory & Condition Report (ICR) | The Inventory & Condition Report (ICR) states the condition of the residence hall room/apartment, including furnishings. The student receives this document when they move into the room/apartment and is expected to inspect the room/apartment and review the report. If the student finds any discrepancies and/or omissions, the student should note these in the appropriate area of the report. The student must return the signed report to Residential Living. The ICR is kept on file in the Office of Residential Living until the student moves out of the room/apartment. At that time, the ICR is used to inspect the room/apartment. The student may be charged for any damage(s) or change(s) in the condition of the room/apartment not previously indicated on the ICR.

Upon moving in, residents are provided the ICR and expected to review their room thoroughly. The resident should add any items or conditions which they want to be recorded as present when the resident initially moved into the unit. The ICR must be completed and turned in promptly to the facility staff within 48 hours. Residents who do not turn in their ICR will be responsible for all damages recorded in their unit when they check-out, regardless if the damages were present upon move in. Failure to turn in an ICR forfeits the resident's right to appeal any damage charges accrued.

- Damages & Damage Appeals | The residents of each room, suite, and/or apartment are responsible for keeping the room and its contents in good order and undamaged.

Damages caused by abuse or misuse of Residential Living facilities or equipment will be billed to the individual(s) responsible for the damage. Multiple or repeated incidents of damages may result in disciplinary action.

When damage occurs that is not considered routine, every effort is made to identify the individual(s) responsible for the damage. However, if the responsible individual cannot be identified, the residents of the floor, wing, or building may be assessed common area charges that will be split among all residents involved. Any appeal of damage charges or common area damage charges must be submitted in writing to the Office of Residential Living within thirty days of the billing date in which the students are notified.

Appeals are only accepted from residents; appeals submitted by other parties are not accepted. Damage charges will be posted to the resident's university Banner account.

- First Hall Meetings | Floor meetings are held in each residence hall and in each apartment building at the beginning of each semester and throughout as needed. These meetings communicate important campus information to residents and/or gain information and feedback from residents on ideas or concerns. Residents are expected to attend all scheduled resident meetings. On some occasions, a floor meeting will be announced as mandatory and attendance by all residents is required. Due to the crucial and/or serious nature of these mandatory meetings, sanctions may be imposed on residents who fail to attend.
- Residence Hall Association Dues | Residence Hall Association dues in the amount of $10.00 per semester are assessed to each resident to fund activities, events, and services for residents provided through Residential Living.

GENERAL INFORMATION

- Communication with Residents | Residential Living communicates with residents primarily through their Nicholls State University e-mail and the telephone number provided in Banner. Please keep your contact information updated in the Banner system. Residents are expected to check their Nicholls email daily. Residents' failure to check their Nicholls email daily does not relieve residents of responsibility for information and expectations provided through e-mails sent by Residential Living.
- Confidentiality | Residence Life staff members will respect the private information that residents may share and keep it confidential. However, staff members will not, and cannot, promise absolute confidentiality. For resident safety and security, staff members are required to report to their supervisors any information concerning the safety and well-being of residents.
- Conflict Resolution & Mediation | Residents may encounter conflict with their roommate(s) from time to time. Roommate Agreements are utilized to assist with potential problems. If a conflict is encountered, all roommates must make a determined effort to resolve the problems in a fair, peaceful, and constructive manner. If a resident experiences roommate conflicts, it is important to address the situation early on in a one-on-one conversation. Should roommates be unable to resolve any conflict, assistance is available from Resident Assistants. For serious conflicts, staff members may require the roommate to complete a Roommate Contract. Additionally, if the aforementioned roommate conflict cannot be resolved with a roommate contract, other resources may be utilized for intervention, as necessary.

Mediation is strongly recommended when residents are in conflict with each other and unable to resolve the situation themselves. In mediation, residents have the opportunity to express their perspectives and feelings in a mutually respectful atmosphere and manner. Residential Living Staff is trained to assist residents in mediating disagreements and resolving problems.

Residents are not permitted to make any repairs. Residents will be charged for damages to any University property. Any maintenance needs to your living unit or community area should be immediately reported to the Residential Living Office electronically through the Online Maintenance Request link on the Residential Living website (www.nicholls.edu/housing). Problems may be reported at any of the desks in the respective halls or in the Residential Living office located in the Brady clubhouse.

All students living on campus have the option to register a private contact person with Residential Living who will be contacted by the Director of Residential Living or their designee if the student is determined to be missing. The name and contact information of the designated contact person will only be given to authorized officials within the University's missing person procedures. All students should also be aware that, should they choose not to register a confidential contact person, University Police will still be contacted if the student is determined to be missing. Any student living in University housing who is under the age of eighteen (18) and who is not emancipated should be aware that their parent or guardian must be notified. All reports regarding possible missing persons must, by law, be referred to University Police.

STUDENT CONDUCT WITHIN THE RESIDENTIAL COMMUNITY

Understanding the Conduct System | All residents within residential facilities owned and operated by Nicholls State University are expected to adhere to and comply with all residential and University rules, regulations, policies, and procedures. In the event a student violates this expectation, the violation is adjudicated through established student conduct processes. Residential Living adjudicates alleged violations of residentially based rules, regulations, policies, and procedures. This section outlines the student conduct process as administered through Residential Living.

Behavior that is a violation of the Student Policy and Procedure Manual and/or seriously disrupts the normal functioning of the residential community or that threatens the health and safety of the community may be referred to the Office of Compliance, Conduct Accountability, and Ethical Development for adjudication in lieu of formal proceedings by Residential Living.

Sanctions imposed by Residential Living staff may include, but are not limited to, loss of privileges, fines, service hours, residential probation, and/or suspension from campus housing.

Guests who violate Residential Living policy may also be subject to judicial action. If the non-resident guest is a guest of a resident, the resident may be held accountable and liable for the actions of the guest. All decisions regarding policy violations require a preponderance of evidence before a resident can be found responsible.

Passive Participation | Residents are obligated to remove themselves from any situation where a violation is occurring. Residents present during a violation of the Residential Policies or Procedures and/or the Student Code of Conduct could be held responsible for that violation.

Room Responsibility | Each student shares responsibility for violations that occur in his or her room or apartment. Residents are expected to intervene and/or notify Residential Living staff when violations occur.

Failure to Comply | A resident may be cited for failure to comply if they refuse to comply with requests and/or instructions from a member of the Residential Living staff. Examples may include, but are not limited to, refusal to identify oneself or produce identification when asked, failure to remain in or leave an area when asked or instructed, etc. Failure to comply also refers to the failure to adhere to and follow all instructional and informational signage and previous judicial sanctions.

JUDICIAL HEARING PROCESS

A Step-by-Step Guide | If residents are alleged to be responsible for violating the Residential Policies & Procedures, they are guaranteed certain procedural rights. This section outlines these procedural rights under the Office of Residential Living. In addition, students can be held responsible for their behavior per the Code of Student Conduct.

The following procedural guidelines apply when a case is heard by a Residence Life staff member in their role as a housing staff member or during an appeal. It is the resident's responsibility to be aware of his or her rights contained within these guidelines. Should a student depart before an investigation and/or adjudication of an alleged infraction is completed, the judicial process may proceed.

1. Alleged Incident Occurs | Anyone involved in, is witness to, or has information about an incident may choose to write an Incident Report to document the facts of the incident.

2. Incident Report Is Written | Incident reports are generally initiated by a Resident Assistant and submitted to the Hall Director, Area Coordinator, or Director of Residential Living. When the incident report contains information regarding alleged policy violations, the students who are alleged to have violated the policy are entitled to view a copy of the report upon request. Typically, lower level violations, such as visitation and noise, are adjudicated by Hall Directors, with higher level violations, such as repeated lower-level violations and property damage, being adjudicated by professional staff members.
 - a. Incident Report | The incident report documents alleged violations of residential and/or University policies, procedures, rules, and/or regulations. The incident report is completed by the Residential Living Staff. The report documents the facts, observations, and relevant information regarding the incident. The submission of an incident report does not automatically mean a resident is deemed responsible for the alleged violation.

3. Email/Letter of Notification | If substantial information exists within the incident report to indicate an alleged policy infraction, a notification will be sent to the resident(s) who allegedly violated the policy. This notification will inform the student of the policy and date of the alleged violation. It will also request that the student contact the staff member to schedule a judicial meeting or it will note the time and date in which a student must appear. Under most circumstances, a judicial meeting will be conducted within 7 business days after the resident has been notified of a need for a judicial meeting.

4. Conduct Meeting is Scheduled | Once a resident has received notification to appear at a conduct meeting, it is his or her responsibility to contact the appropriate staff member to schedule the conduct meeting within five business days. In some cases, the case will be scheduled in advance. Should a resident choose not to schedule or attend a conduct meeting, the meeting may proceed, and conclusions may be reached in his or her absence. Findings will be based on the information made available to the staff member at the time of the conduct meeting. Although residents are expected to comply with all conduct procedures, failure to respond or appear as provided in these regulations will not be construed as an admission of guilt. In cases where more than one student is alleged to be responsible for a violation of these regulations, the staff member may determine that a single consolidated conduct meeting be conducted to review and determine the matter(s) pertaining to those students. Residents may request to have their cases heard individually.
5. Conduct Meeting | During a conduct meeting, residents will have the opportunity to review the evidence alleging their involvement in a policy violation(s). Residents will have an opportunity to respond to the allegations(s) contained in an Incident Report by presenting information relevant to their case as provided in these regulations. Documentary evidence and oral statements relevant to the case will be considered by the staff member only when the person(s) providing that the evidence or statements can be made available for examination at a conduct meeting unless the staff member determines that it is unreasonable or impossible to enforce this requirement. At the conclusion of the meeting, responsibility will be determined by a preponderance of evidence, meaning that the majority of evidence indicates that the resident is responsible for the incident or behavior.
6. Decision is Made and an Outcome Letter is Sent | Students will be notified in writing of the final decision of the conduct meeting officer after the judicial meeting is completed. Under most circumstances, this will occur within five business days. The decision of the staff member shall constitute the written record of the meeting and shall be kept on file with the Office of Residential Living. All conduct proceedings under these regulations are subject to all applicable laws and regulations governing the privacy and disclosure of student records. The Office of Residential Living shall make the final determination(s) in all disciplinary actions taken under these procedures.
7. Resident May Choose to Appeal in Writing/Email | The decision of the staff member may be appealed, in writing, within three (3) business days of the date, the decision letter is rendered. In general, decisions regarding appeals are rendered within 10 business days. Appeals must be submitted in writing to housing@nicholls.edu.

Written appeals must cite specific reasons for a reconsideration of the decision. The right to appeal the decision is limited and may be based only on:

- a. the grounds that procedural error(s) occurred at the judicial meeting that unfairly affected the outcome of a case.
- b. compelling new evidence, relevant to the outcome of a case, was discovered and was demonstrably not available at the time of the judicial meeting. New evidence may be submitted after the three-day appeal limit; however, sanctions do take effect after the three-day timeline. Thus, appeals may or may not affect sanctions.
- c. specific conditions that provide good cause for reconsidering a case. This can include unduly harsh sanctions or demonstrated bias against a resident during the conduct process.

8. Sanctions | Normally, no sanction(s) will be imposed against a resident before the conclusion of the conduct meeting process as provided in these procedures. However, if a resident is involved in a conduct case in any capacity, they may be permanently re-assigned at any time as stated in the Residential Handbook. Reassignment actions do not constitute sanctions and are not applicable.

The Office of Residential Living may determine that sufficient cause exists to impose interim eviction or relocation on a student pending disciplinary proceedings. If imposed, a resident is required to leave the residence within the time specified in the interim eviction notice and cannot return until written notice is received.

In violations where a fine is imposed, future violations for similar offenses are progressive. Below is a potential example of a progressive fine:

a. First Violation:

- i. Fine - $25.00 and an educational sanction

b. Second Violation:

- i. Fine - $50.00, educational sanction and residential probation

c. Third Violation:

- i. Fine - $100.00 and potential eviction

Sanctions may include, but are not limited to:

- Assignment Change | A student's housing assignment may be changed as a result of the student's behavior or actions.
- Fines | Fines must be paid by the student and cannot be satisfied through financial aid or other University-based funding. Fines must be paid in full to Fee Collections by the specified deadline. If full payment is not made by the specified deadline, an additional late fee may be assessed and a hold may be placed on the student.
- Personal Growth Activity | A personal growth activity is designed to assist the student in better understanding the overall impact of their behavioral infraction(s). Such assigned activities might include but are not limited to research papers, the creation of educational materials, or the planning and/or presentation of educational programs related to the policy infraction.
- Residential Eviction | Residential eviction is the cancellation of the student's housing contract. The student will be expected to completely vacate the housing facility by the date and time specified by Residential Living. Unless otherwise stated in official written correspondence, the student will also be banned from all housing facilities and not permitted to be in, on, or around the facilities at any time.
- Residential Probation | Residential probation is typically the last sanction prior to eviction from campus housing and is usually accompanied by one or more restrictions of privilege. If on residential probation and found to be responsible for any additional residential or University violations, the student will be immediately evicted from campus housing.
- Restitution | A student may be held financially responsible for damages or excessive cleaning which results from the student's behavior or actions.

- Restriction of Privilege | A restriction of privilege means the student loses one or more specified residential privileges or access for a designated period of time. One example would be a loss of guest visitation privileges.
- Service | A service sanction is designed to compensate for the student's unacceptable behavior or action through a community service activity.
- Written Warning | A notice that continued or repeated violations of University policies or campus housing policies will result in further conduct action.

Judicial Violations that May Result in Eviction:

(This list is not all-inclusive, but rather is intended to give some examples of serious violations.)

- Possession or use of dangerous weapons/substances including guns, knives, explosives, or flammable materials.
- Possession or use of illegal drugs or bulk alcohol.
- Tampering with fire-safety equipment.
- Physical abuse of others or self, including assault, sexual assault, or suicide attempts.
- Threats of violence to others or self, including physical threats, sexual harassment, or suicide threats.
- Throwing or dropping objects from or at a building.
- Repeated violation of policies or regulations.

Sample Damages, Fines, and Other Charges

The following is a list of potential damage and fine charges. Depending on the severity of specific damages and/or violations, the actual cost can vary. The best way to ensure that no damages or fines are incurred is to maintain a safe and clean living environment, avoid damaging or altering the facilities, report any potential damages or maintenance needs in a timely manner, and follow all policies.

APPENDIX

APPENDIX I

Residential Living Approved Animal Policy

The purpose of this policy is to address the recent influx of emotional support and service animals in residential housing facilities. In an attempt to protect the well-being of the owner, other on-campus residents, university staff, and our facilities, these general rules must be followed:

1. All animals must be crated or placed in a carrier in the resident's assigned area at all times when the resident is not physically present in the room or apartment. Areas not allowed as crating spaces are the shared bathroom, living room, or any other shared space. Should an animal escape due to oversight of this rule while university personnel is entering the room, the university is not liable for the animal's well-being in any capacity. The resident will be contacted to retrieve the said animal. If the resident cannot be contacted or if the resident is unsuccessful in retrieving their animal, Animal Control will be contacted. The owner will hold the University blameless in the event the emotional support animal goes missing. University staff is not responsible for the retrieval of said animal in the event the animal escapes or becomes lost.
2. According to Louisiana Leash Laws, animals must be maintained under standard restraints such as a carrier and/or leash to relieve themselves in a grassy area. All animal waste must be immediately disposed of in a plastic bag and placed in an outdoor waste receptacle away from building entrances. Waste should never be disposed of inside of a residential building. Animals using litter or bedding must be disposed of in dumpsters away from the residential buildings.
3. Animals should never be found roaming any campus area not restrained by a leash that is in the hands of the assigned owner.
 - a. Restricted areas for emotional support animals include any academic buildings on campus, the Recreational Center, and inside the confines of the Brady Apartment Complex pool area.
4. The noise level of the animal must never hinder another student's learning environment or create a bothersome atmosphere.
5. If residents are found not cleaning up after their animal and a university staff member must clean up after an animal, a cleaning charge will be placed on the resident's account.
6. Objects belonging to the animal must remain in the assigned residential room space only.
7. All residents with registered animals are subject to monthly animal compliance checks. During these checks, the following will be inspected:
 - a. All animal belongings in are the correct area (see item 1)
 - b. Cleanliness related to animals (fur and odor, see item 5)
 - c. Any damages caused by the animal
 - i. The owner is financially responsible for any damage or cleaning needed.
 - d. Space is free of fleas, ticks, and other pests
 - i. If detected, university-approved pest control services will be contacted and resident will be billed for the expense of any pest treatment beyond the standard pest management.
8. Animals are required to have identification at all times.
9. Approved animals may not be left overnight in student housing to be cared for by another student. Animals must be taken with the student if they leave campus for a prolonged period. Residents are not allowed to leave their animals over break or weekends if the resident is not going to be staying on campus. Care of the animal cannot be left up to any other individual, as sole responsibility is that of the owner who the animal provides services. Care of the animal includes but is not limited to providing food and water, cleaning up after the animal, and walking animal for natural relief or exercise. This guideline excludes mandatory evacuations for the building in the event of fire or safety drills.

10. If an animal physically harms another resident, it will be removed from the residence hall immediately.
 - a. The owner is financially responsible for any harm caused or the cost of removal services if needed.
11. Animals must be current with immunizations against diseases common to that type of animal.
12. If at any point your approved animal becomes pregnant, you must remove your emotional support animal from campus.
13. The University reserves the right to contact the proper authorities if we feel any emotional support animal is being abused or neglected. If a student's animal is removed because of abuse or neglect, the resident will no longer be eligible for an emotional support animal during their tenure at Nicholls State University.

Residents with approved animals will receive these expectations from the Director of the Student Access Center upon completion of required documentation and paperwork. The Office of Residential Living will also send these expectations via e-mail correspondence after receipt of approval from the Student Access Center, as well as prior to the start of each academic term.

Violation of Terms:

E-mail correspondence sent prior to the start of each academic term serves as a general warning. Any documented situation that contradicts these guidelines will result in the following:

1. The resident will receive a formal written warning.
2. Upon the second report, a meeting will be scheduled with the appropriate Area Coordinator to discuss policy violations. In addition to this meeting, the student will be placed on animal compliance probation.
3. Any incidents that break this probation will result in the removal of the animal from campus residence halls.
4. Animals causing physical harm to any persons on campus will automatically result in immediate removal of animal and will not be subject to the warning system.

Documented warnings and probationary periods do not overlap academic terms (i.e. resident placed on animal compliance probation in the fall term will have their record erased upon the start of the spring term.) Once an animal has been removed from residential facilities, it will no longer be allowed to return on campus for the remainder of the owner's tenure at Nicholls State University. The owner is expected to fulfill their housing obligation as stated in the housing contract in the event of an animal's removal.

Residents with approved animals are expected to follow all residential policies. This policy serves in addition to the guidelines set by the Student Access Center. Receipt of this policy and presence of an approved animal on campus acknowledges that the resident has read and understands these expectations and they agree to the terms of the Residential Living Approved Animal Policy.

APPENDIX II.

If it is necessary to move into isolation, Residential Living will work with the resident to determine what they may need from their regular housing assignment.
- Isolation | Residents who are remaining in isolation due to COVID-19 symptoms and/or testing positive (based on the direction of a healthcare provider) may be assigned to a designated residential space. It is necessary that these residents remain in isolation for at least 10 days after the onset of the illness (no fever for more than 3 and symptoms are improving).
 - For proper containment in the event that a resident has COVID-19, residents in isolation are only permitted in their single room and in the bathroom. All food and other basic necessities will be delivered to their door.
 - Residents in isolation may not interact in person with other people in the hallway or common area, and may not leave their room until their isolation period is complete.
 - If a resident in isolation needs an item from their regular housing assignment, they should contact the RA on duty.
 - Guests are not allowed. A student in isolation who violates this expectation will face significant student conduct action which could include interim suspension from the residence halls.
 - If a resident is required to leave campus, they will be required to provide a medical clearance prior to being allowed to return.

While we understand that these policies and procedures may be challenging at times, they are necessary to keep our campus and your experience a safe and healthy one.
