REPORT CLIMATE CONCERN

Completing one of the forms below will enable you to describe an incident of climate concern—providing our University with a very important tool to become the inclusive and respectful Villanova University community that we want to be.

Once you click “Submit” on the form, you should receive an immediate confirmation webpage, and an email confirming your submission will follow soon after (usually within hours). A member of the Campus Climate Resource Network will respond to you shortly (usually in 48 hours or less) regarding the information you submitted in your report. To the extent possible, the University will maintain the confidentiality of all parties involved in a climate concern report.

When you report incidents of concern, you help us take a major step forward in becoming the community we aspire to be. No one should be mistreated because of their race, age, color, sex, sexual orientation, religion, ethnic or national origin, disability or veteran status—and it’s our shared responsibility to stop discrimination and bias when we see it. We can work together to build a safer, healthier, stronger, more respectful and inclusive Villanova community.
