So how is the recovery at Saint Aug, because I heard a nasty rumor that one or more of the bldgs where classes are being held have had some delayed damages occur since the storm (like stuff caving in or falling off). Is there any truth to that? I just wanna make sure the decision to rush back in so fast was not one that will soon be shown to be a worse idea than some originally thought.

Saunders: St. Aug's used tornado as a stern lesson for students - Saunders - NewsObserver
www.newsobserver.com

President Dianne Boardley Suber should've told the students whining about the two-day power outage or the faint smell of spoiled food somewhere in their dorm about Mary McLeod Bethune or Booker T. Washington and what they had to contend with to receive an education and to educate others.

Saint Aug did not cause the storm. The effect is emergency procedures and it is not comfortable we know. But to bash the school as if Dr. Suber and staff are doing nothing is negative. By the way all colleges and universities can tell you stories about campus life, we have all crossed your paths. Be positive!

Angela Brown I honestly don't know what to say, but overall, just be happy that you survived this tornado. There are ppl that lived in mobile homes, 5 minutes from school, that were killed. But just stand strong and remember when it comes to Utilities issues(power, water) its takes time in this situation because of the tornado. So just stand strong.

Wow, never thought I'd see the day were students are treated so poorly, but are wanted to attend class this morning. You guys have students sleeping innn the cafe(health code violation) and then want students to shower in the gym! This is sooo ridiculous, but all the adminstration and President don't have to live like this so they do...

The college continues to work with Progress Energy to restore power to the remaining buildings on campus. Progress Energy has contractors from several states assisting in this effort. Please understand that the campus is a priority to Progress Energy however the magnitude of the damage caused by this disaster is extensive accross the State of North Carolina.

Ayana Yanaeboo Eaddy Sanjay I understand your discomfort This is my 3rd storm like this. I can assure you it's not that they don't want you to have lights, this is mother nature it's not the college. Progress Energy handles the power.
April 19 at 9:31am · Like

Sanjay Ramdon I understand and although difficult work must be done. My intent was to implore the college that it is just as important to obtain electricity there than any other part of campus. Either way, I hope we are doing the best to restore power as soon as possible.

Good Morning Fellow Augites, My name is Theodore R. Lee, Jr. aka California, Theo, Big Brother Grasshopper Alpha Phi Alpha fall 1989 Class of 1991. I would like to challenge each class from 1867 to 2014 in a pledge to the historical restoration of our campus. Insurance will only cover so much, the rest will be up to us. I Pledge $300 to Saint Augustine Building Restoration Fund. Who will be next? Which class will donate the most? Thank God no one was injured!!!
